UNIFORM GRADUATION GOWNS.

Girls of High School May Wear Inexpensive Voile Frocks Made Alike.

The class of 1915 of Killingly High school seems destined not only to set up a record of being the largest ever graduated from the school, but as well one having a generous amount of that invaluable asset in life—good common sense. It is learned by parents and many others interested in the school, and with more than passing interest, that the young ladies have practically agreed that their graduation gowns shall all be alike, of the same material and identical in style. White voile is the favorite material. The plan is to secure complete uniformity in dress and has found favor with a great majority of the young women interested.

This week a class meeting is to be held at which the matter will be definitely decided. It is proposed to use gowns of three of the principal colors of commencement, and the class day exercises, the graduation exercises and at the reception for the class under the auspices of the Alumni association. Another radical change proposed is the use of daisies for bouquets instead of roses and carnations, as has been customary in the past. This will be particularly appropriate, as the class colors are yellow and white.

It is probable that the young ladies of the class of 1915 will have nothing, either as a group or individually, in beauty or dainty attractiveness, that has been so favorably considered. On the other hand, the very practical and sensible proposition, to effect in the graduation expenses of each young woman, and, to many minds, will be a crushing refutation of the unfair charge so often heard as to graduating exercises being held chiefly to permit a fashion display.

Opinions voiced Wednesday indicate that the young ladies can gain more in esteem and approbation of their elders by adopting a uniform, inexpensive, but none the less, a pretty dress, than they could possibly hope for were they to receive their diplomas gowned in the richest and rarest fabrics from the season's offerings.

SERIOUS WOODLAND FIRE

Burns Over Grassmere Farm Property of W. A. Reist.

The most serious woodland fire of the spring season in this town broke out about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning on land in the vicinity of the stone railroad bridge near Dayville and in a very short time was sweeping over that section with alarming rapidity. How the fire started was not definitely known Wednesday, but one report had it that careless handling of a brush fire was the cause.

Telephone calls to Dayville, Williamsville, Danielson and Elmville eventually resulted in bringing between 30 and 40 men to fight the fire, which was chiefly confined to the Grassmere farm property of W. A. Reist. The fire went forward with such a rush that many acres were involved and much young pine woods were being ruined or badly damaged in a very brief space of time. The fire raced along to the very edge of the woods on the W. F. Day place, starting the people there, before it could be checked on its westerly course. At one time the situation at that point seemed so serious as to indicate that the fire might sweep through the Dayville and consume the farm buildings, but this catastrophe was averted by very stubborn fighting of the flames.

At the noon hour those fighting the fire believed that they had it under control, but it again burst forth with renewed fury and more hard work was necessary to subdue it during the afternoon.

The damage caused could not be accurately estimated Wednesday, but it will be a very considerable amount.

F. N. Olmsted is captain of the team. H. Fisher, Jr., manager and A. F. A. King assistant manager.

HOSPITAL APPROPRIATION.

Considered Too Small—$4,000 Wanted From the State.

Thirty patients at the Day Kimball hospital make a sufficient number to test the capacity of the institution nearly to the limit. The increasing amount of work being done at the hospital means an increase of expenses in many departments. It is therefore a feeling that the appropriation for the state at this session of the legislature should be $4,000 a year for the next two years. The usual meeting of the legislature has been called to this and it is hoped with a reasonable expectation of securing the extra appropriation.

Court Not Lenient With Rounders.

Judge Mahlon H. Geisler of the city court is making it clear that undesirable characters who come to Putnam, either about the streets and constitute themselves a nuisance will be summarily dealt with if they happen to get into court. Rounders may take warning that Putnam will be a good place to avoid if they are one of those who have been arrested are considered.
